

About Us

Standage & Co Limited is a Main Contractor providing building refurbishment services to both the public and private sectors within London and the Thames Gateway.

Based in South East London, we are a medium-sized Main Contractor which has provided our unique package of intelligent refurbishment to both the private and public sectors for over 80 years. Our commitment generates repeat orders from an established and growing customer base.

Established in 1938, Standage remains a privately owned company and continues to thrive in the public sector on which the foundations of the business were built. Now spanning three generations, and under the director Chris Brain, the business has also developed successfully into the private sector where it continues to be a specialist provider of internal and external refurbishment services.
